Steve,

On September 30, 2025, the petitioner conducted door-to-door outreach with representatives from all adjacent residences and nearby businesses to discuss the proposed rezoning request. Each neighboring residence or business was personally visited to share project information, answer questions, and gather feedback.

During these visits, the petitioner presented an overview of the project's intent, site plan, and anticipated community benefits. The door-to-door meetings were well received. Neighbors expressed interest in the project, and no major objections were noted. The petitioner remains available for additional discussion or clarification as the rezoning process continues.
