1. As a college student, what three issues concern you most in Winston-Salem, and why?

1. Food insecurity. I think it's a huge problem here and my main concern is with child hunger because they cannot perform well in school if they are hungry.
 2. Poverty. Inside the Wake Forest bubble there is little poverty but outside of it is a different story. I believe helping lift people out of poverty will change Winston Salem for the better.
 3. Sustainability. Protecting our environment is not just a Winston-Salem problem but a world-wide problem. And we need to do our part to make sure the world is safe for generations to come.

2. Explain a time when your college/university collaborated with the local community and how this experience benefited both students and the public.

Wake Forest student work with the community every week through Campus Kitchen. We pick up produce from the Fresh Market that they can no longer sell and give it to our community partners like the Potter's House. The students benefit from our partnership because we get to cultivate our leadership and communication skills. The community benefits because our partners get food they need and the grocery stores reduce their waste.

3. What change/effect do you plan to have on the local community before you graduate?

I want to expand Campus Kitchen and through that provide more help to those in need. I want to partner with more community organizations to provide food for more people and further reduce food waste and hunger in Winston-Salem
