National Register Historic Districts

Historic Resources staff has concerns about the loss of buildings in the City's National Register Historic Districts. Therefore, I have sent notice of this potential demolition to Preservation Forsyth, the local historic preservation non-profit organization. Their mission is to promote, protect, and advocate for Historic Resources in Forsyth County.

The house at 2401 Sink Street is a ca. 1900 two-story, I-house with Queen Anne influences. The house has a side-gable roof and a hip-roofed porch with turned posts and brackets. It is a contributing structure to the Waughtown-Belview Historic District.

If demolition for this structure is approved, Historic Resources staff requests that the Community Development Department have the structures professionally photo-documented and submit the photos to the Forsyth County Historic Resources Commission.

Historically African-American Neighborhoods

Recent discussions at City Council and Council Committee meetings have indicated concern about the loss of structures in historically African-American neighborhoods. For Council Members' information, staff has identified structures from the list that are in historically African-American neighborhoods, as documented by the latest survey of Winston-Salem's historic resources.
